

Insurance & Reinsurance

Morris, Manning & Martin is well-known for its exceptional practice in the insurance industry. Our lawyers have in-depth industry knowledge and experience with navigating complex insurance regulations and practices. Carriers, reinsurers and alternative risk ventures across the U.S. make it their policy to engage the industry-focused Insurance & Reinsurance Practice of Morris, Manning & Martin.

Key Services

- Agency matters
- Captive insurance companies and other alternative risk transfer vehicles
- Class actions
- Coverage disputes
- Drafting and negotiation of reinsurance treaties
- Health insurance and ERISA disputes
- Insurance litigation
- International arbitrations
- Life settlements
- Managing general agencies
- Mergers, acquisitions and restructurings
- Policy and rate filings
- Privacy disputes
- Product development
- Product disputes
- Regulatory compliance and corporate governance
- Reinsurance disputes
- Representation before state insurance departments
- Risk retention & self-insured funding disputes

Transaction Advisors

Our lawyers can help you manage complex legal issues in the insurance arena, from mergers to alternative risk financing. We regularly advise clients on staying in compliance with regulations, entering new markets, navigating securitization laws, or creating effective online insurance ventures. Our lawyers are your transaction advisors. In today's volatile market, regional brokers and carriers often align with larger firms. Complex alternative risk companies are formed. Insurers enter reorganization, and regulators reshape the market. At all stages of insurance transactions, the Insurance and Reinsurance Practice enables sound deals that reach your business objectives.

Alternative Risk

Along with primary and reinsurance carriers, our clients include captives, risk retention groups, agencies, new online insurance ventures and financial institutions with an insurance presence. Our lawyers have been instrumental in captive regulations on all levels, from penning provisions of the federal law to advising leading states on amending their laws to benefit all sides. We know offshore rules and practices, and our veteran tax team counsels clients on a host of filing needs. Formation of an alternative market mechanism – from domiciling a captive to structuring tiered coverage – can be handled with confidence by the thorough, informed legal team at MMM.

Far-Reaching Resources

Whether in-house counsel needs guidance on employment laws in Florida or a claims manager requires representation in a distant arbitration proceeding, the reach and resources of MMM ensure swift resolution guided by industry best practices. Our litigators step into court with a solid foundation in policy language and precedent-setting decisions. From an office in the nation's capital, the Insurance and Reinsurance Practice's leadership, advocacy and counsel on industry regulation keep us on top of new and emerging laws that affect industry business. Regulators have often sought our representation in reorganizations and rehabilitations. Carriers realize our firm's savvy in statutory accounting and reserving issues will cover their risks as surely as their policies do for insureds. We collaborate closely with affiliated practice group lawyers to create effective and efficient team legal services. Transactions. Regulation. Dispute resolution. Across all lines, insurance clients count on our veteran lawyers for counseling excellence.